How would your flood insurance compliance program fare with regulators? There have been many changes in the last two years that have created confusion about flood insurance compliance. Civil money penalties are assessed for noncompliance almost weekly. The changes taking place on April 1 include an increase in the reserve fund assessment, the implementation of an annual surcharge on all new and renewed policies, an additional deductible option, an increase in the federal policy fee, and rate increases for most policies.

This webinar is designed to refresh your knowledge of flood insurance requirements and provide the most up-to-date information to ensure your program is compliant and can stand up to regulatory scrutiny.
